

about aliciacurtis

Alicia Curtis is obsessed with helping young professionals achieve their potential. She has managed her own leadership development consultancy since 2002, working with thousands of young people aged from 12 to 35 years old.

Alicia is a Professional Member of the National Speakers Association of Australia and received the Western Australia Excellence in Speaking Award in 2008. In addition, Alicia holds a Masters in Leadership and Management.

Alicia herself has had a diverse range of leadership experiences, including attending the first International Children's Conference on the Environment in 1995 when she was 12 and then going on to co-found her own Children's Conference in Perth with three other young people when she was 13 years old. At 21 years old, Alicia ran as an independent candidate for the Federal Senate, being profiled on Sunrise and polling 7th out of 15 groups.

In 2010 Alicia is the State President of the National Speakers Association of Australia WA Chapter as well as a National Board member. She also holds the positions of National Young Representative on the National Business and Professional Women's Board of Australia and Advisory Council member of the Millennium Kids youth organisation.
